Remember the time...

you had to express yourself. Whether alone or with friends, each person expressed himself in his own individualized way: ... making a good move for the fans, ... pausing from the latest "scoop" to show the "photo world" you're alive, ... your favorite teacher's critique (as friends look on in "awe"), ... taking three months to decorate your locker that you never use because it's too far from your classes, ... giving a friend your reluctant (but modest) approval, ... putting out that last "umph" just to make the competition feel a little less satisfied.

Remember?

Remember the time . . .

for having fun. Sure you had homework, and sometimes it wasn't so much fun—but you still had plenty of time and freedom to: . . .kick back during lunch and just enjoy the things going on around you, . . .wave to your parents, brothers, sisters, Aunt Jane, Uncle Bill . . ., . . .waste your hard earned money for a club you never heard of and 4 oz. of the thickest lemonade you've ever had, . . .get caught in the act of sneaking a glance at what makes a mascot tick, . . .wonder if you're supposed to leave ten or fifteen space margins on your assignment that's two weeks late . . .watching the last seconds tick away, and our team is eight points behind, . . .experiencing a fellow teammate's agony as he's carried off the field for the rest of the season.

Remember?

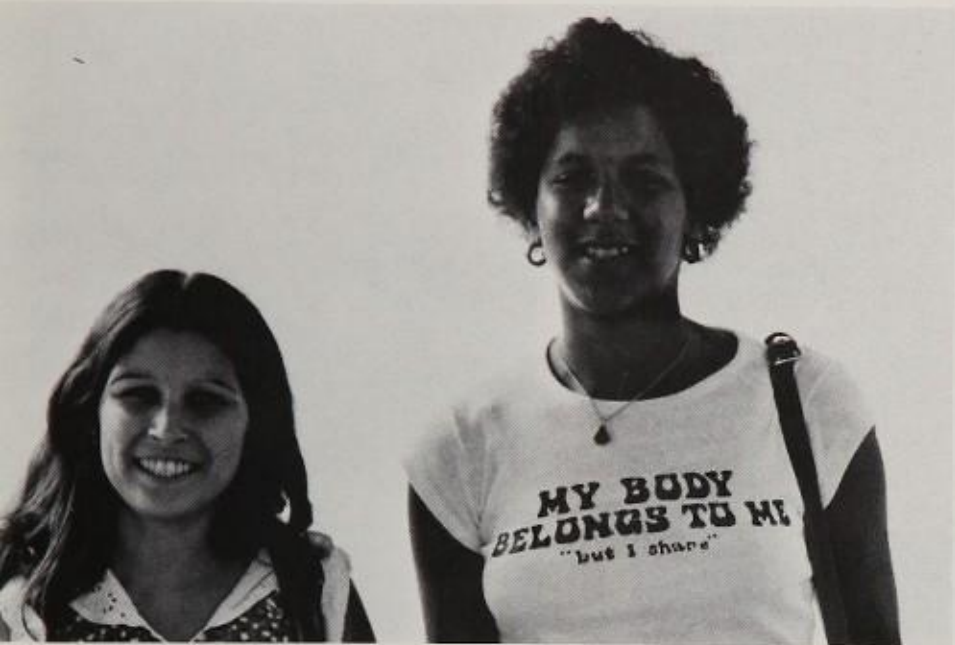

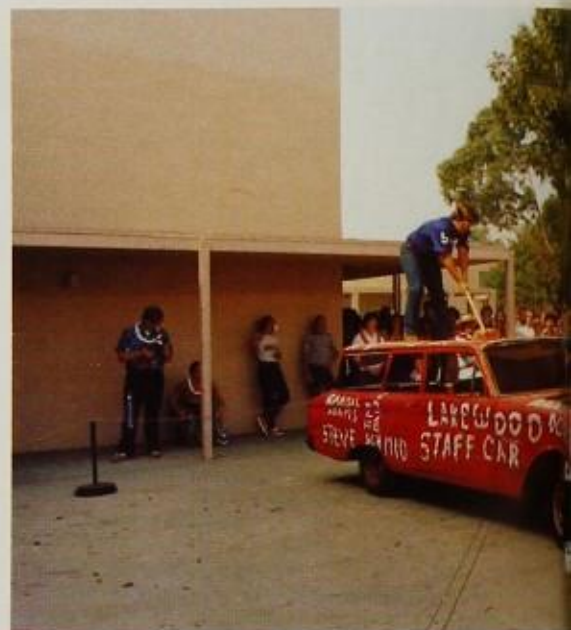

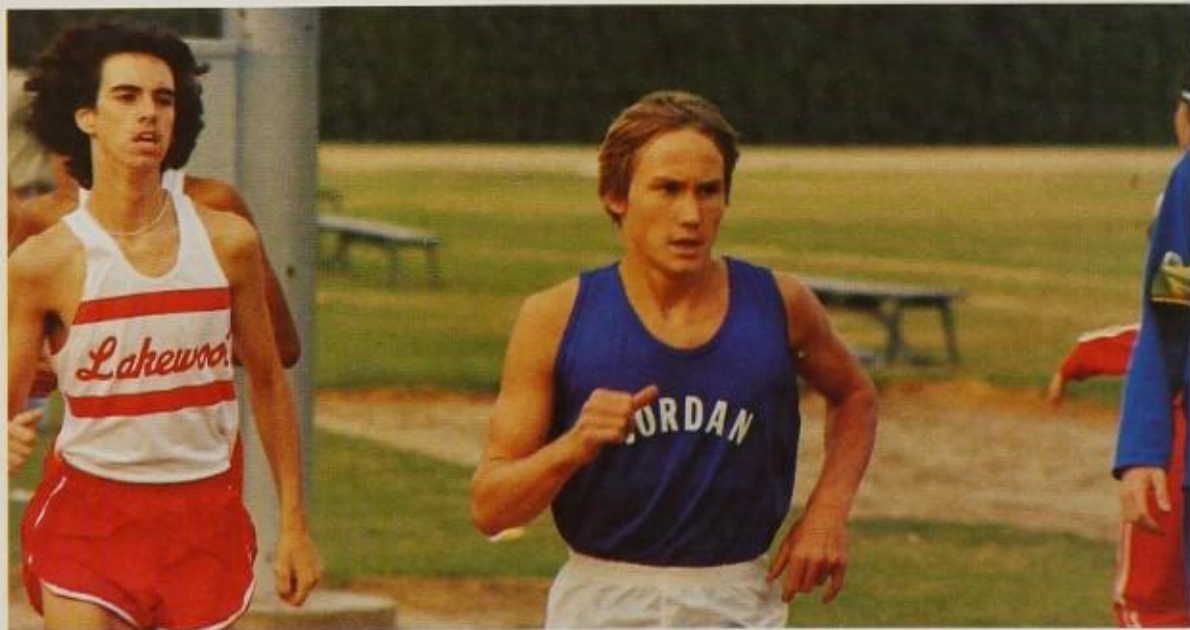

Remember the time . . .

for changes. Although many people thought some changes were not for the better, we endured and accepted them and became closer to each other in the process, . . . although faces and sometimes perspectives had changed, pep rallies were still a regular part of campus life, . . . new coaches, new plays; football was still the highlight of student activities, . . . reflections of a cold shower that morning (energy saver) cause a lack of interest in the day's activities, . . . new friendships blossomed; old friendships flourished, . . . the overall show of spirit and pride cannot change, . . . a new media center affected us greatly, . . . as we were corralled and fenced in different directions every other day!

Remember?

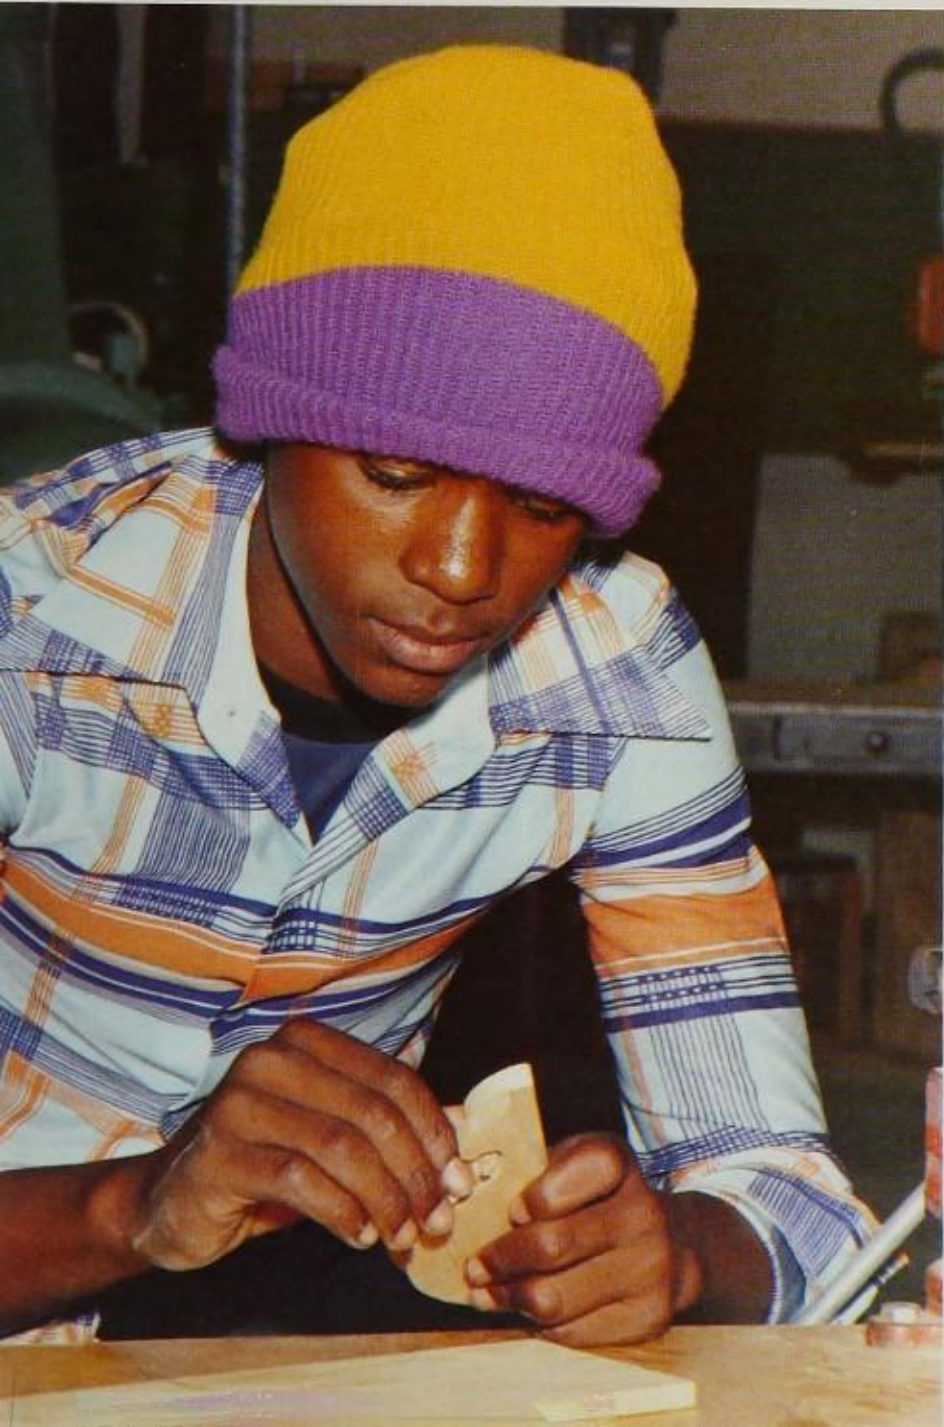

Remembering times...

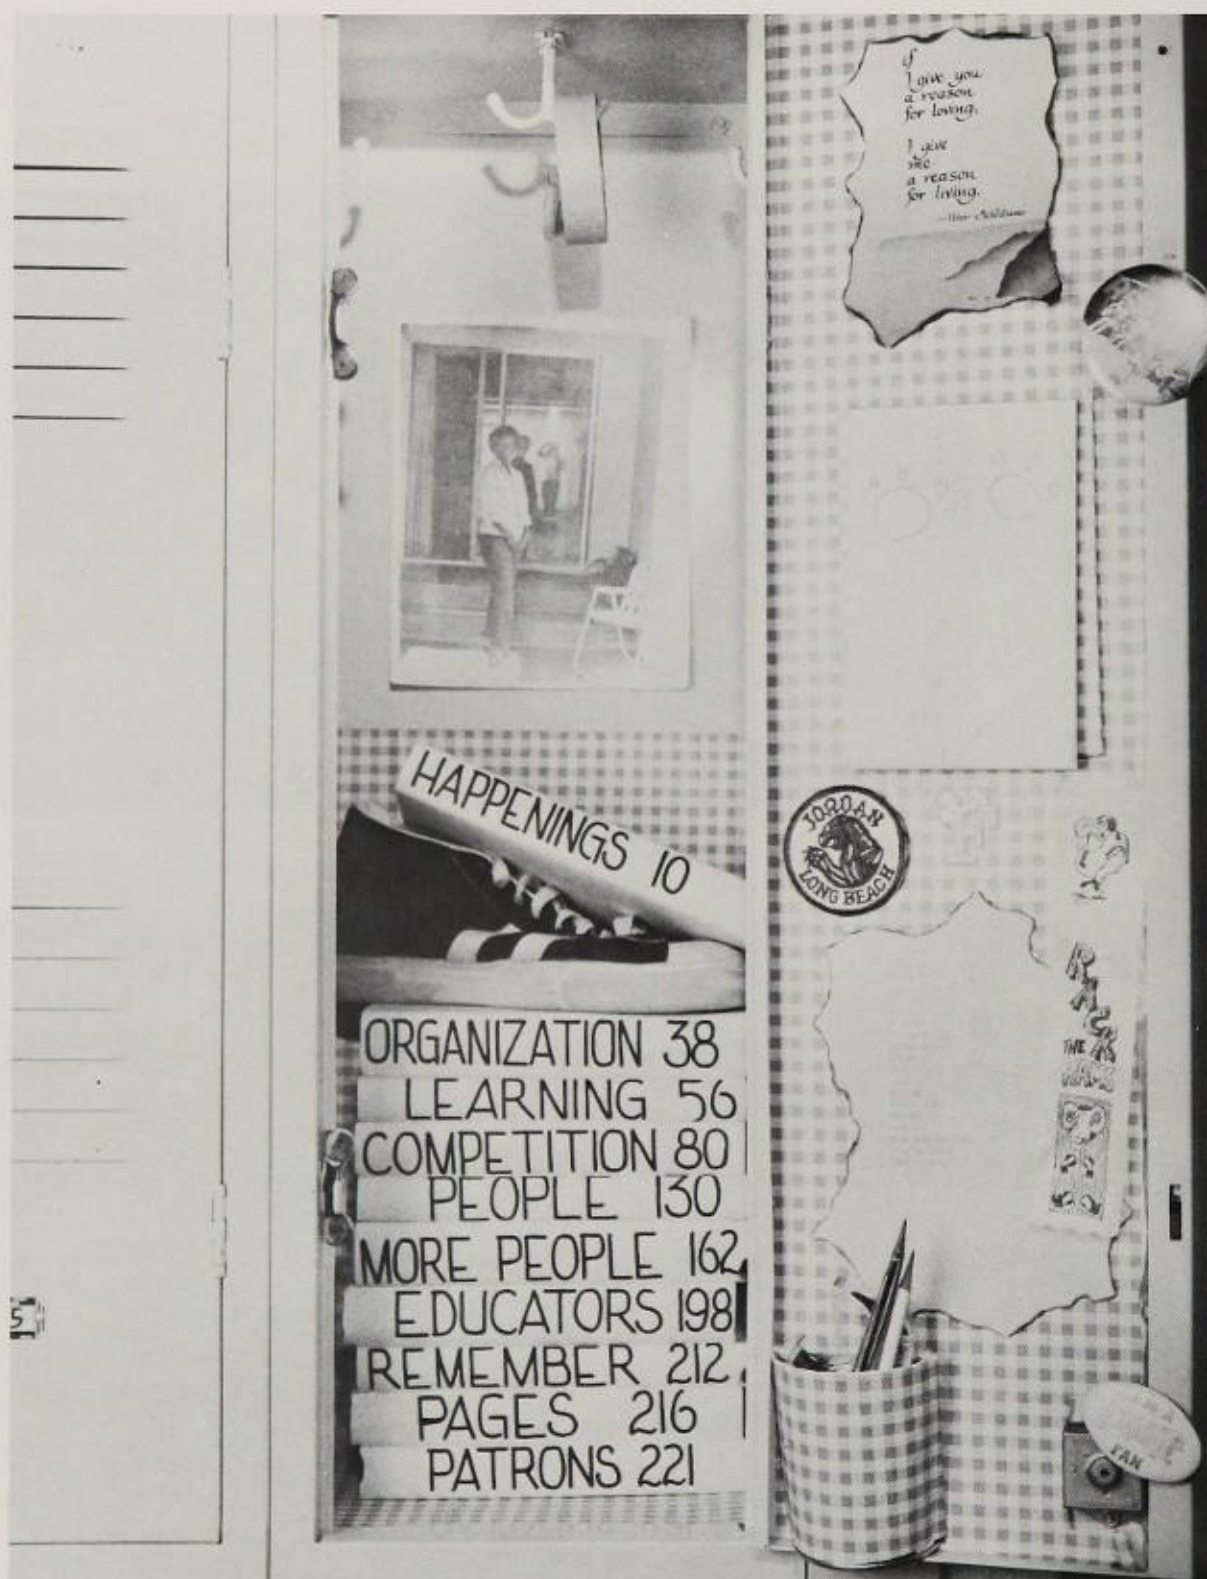

of expression, having fun, and changes reminds us just how much we put into this year. We all gave a little bit that we can never regain: ...fighting to maintain a lead over Lakewood, ...giving some hard labor to show (very little) respect, ...taking time to regain energy to make it through another week, ...working hard for the "A" in your hardest class, ...putting a finishing touch on a project to make it as close as possible to "perfect", ...the thrill of achievement-realizing you have done the best to get the praise and admiration of others. We have finished and attained our goal.

Our spirit comes from pride

Pepsters were one of the most hard working, multi-talented, and closely knit groups on campus.

The group cheered at Varsity football games, participated in half-time shows, performed at rallies, marched in competition parades, provided entertainment at basketball games, as well as inventing and perfecting their song, flag, and twirling routines.

The pepsters were also involved in several spirit raising projects such as decorating the football players' locker room and houses for homecoming. Lending support to all athletic teams, it was common to see the cheery blue and white pepster uniforms in the audience at many sports events.

This has been Miss Lindahl's twelfth year as pepster sponsor, and her fourteenth year at Jordan. Of the pepsters she said, "It is a distinct privilege to sponsor a group where there is so much dedication, love, pride, and tradition."

Representing Jordan at its finest, the pepsters made the student body proud.

...and our pride comes from inside.

Unity is what our 1977-78 yell leaders achieved this year. They hoped to get all groups involved with repeat cheers like "Funky Chicken" and "Sock-it." The girls succeeded with their peppy smiles and energetic personalities as they cheered and supported all of our athletic teams.

Varsity yell was also responsible for our colorful pep signs that were put up to cheer our teams on. The girls put forth great effort which expressed their spirit and "Blue Pride" at rallies.

In 1977-78, the Panther yell leaders were indeed # 1.

When you see us, step aside,

Top Row: Kathy Thompson, Kim Brooks, Monica Irvine, Gayla Gallon, Felicia Johns.

Pantherettes don't take no jive!

Most people think that all the Pantherettes did this year was half-time shows at football games, but they also sold pencils and spirit buttons, sponsored the Homecoming dance and had a garage sale. Over the summer, captains Kim Galles and Lorri Krzinowck along with dance captains Jane Padilla and Lynne Taylor attended a drill team camp at Loyola University. This year the Pantherettes competed in their first competition halftime show hosted by Savanna High School. They also participated in the Daisy Lane Christmas Parade and the Lakewood Pan American Parade to complete a most successful year.

Soph yell helped lead the way to victory.

"We've got blue pride" is what our sophomore yell chanted this year. The four girls without the aid of a microphone were still heard. Soph yell attended yell camp with the other squads which helped improve their routines as they cheered for all sophomore sports. Their pep signs added color as yell proved indeed to be high spirited.

JV yell was way out front in spirit in supporting the mighty Panthers.

Bubbly, bouncy, and full of spirit — that was what characterized our j.v. yell team. They cheered with enthusiasm for all our j.v. sports' teams. The girls worked hard all summer, attending yell camp, and learning new cheers to prove that j.v. yell definitely is the best!

Top to Bottom: Mary Lokey, Delorna Daniels, Darcy Starr, Shirley Teters, Debbie Zink, Leola Oliver.

Mascots promote panther power at athletic events.

Ron Slack and Alicia Phillips showed their panther pride in serving as the 1977-78 mascots. They helped enliven our pep rallies with original, funny skits and contests. The mascots' participation in our football games added to our school spirit, and their sense of humor and pep helped to make our mascots no. 1.

The Jordan Band, one of the most prestigious organizations on campus, which has a long history of performances and awards maintained its standards this year by being one of the finest bands in the city.

Mr. Wyatt began his first year at Jordan as instrumental music director and has had a fantastic start with the help of the band staff and Mr. Yamamoto, the assistant director.

Among the band's many activities in '77-'78 were performing at the football games, the First Annual Savanna Field Show Tournament, and the West Long Beach Christmas Lane Parade. Other fine musical exhibitions included spring Music Festivals, the Spring Concert, the Pan American Parade in Lakewood, the La Mirada Band Review, and performing at Magic Mountain. The band also sponsored the district-wide solo and ensemble festival in February.

with outstanding performances.

Hawaiian dancers celebrate

Jordan Homecoming

Polynesian Paradise was the theme for this year's Homecoming. While alumni arranged to take time off work or school to visit, the student body prepared to welcome them back to Jordan. Cline Square was transformed into a tropical jungle, teeming with exotic plants and brightly clad natives. Clubs sold tiki punch, pineapple, and other tropical treats. The stadium assembly featured alumni yell and pepsters, and a hula contest. Professional Polynesian dancers and the crowning of the queen spotlighted the football game that evening, which concluded with a Homecoming dance in the gym.

Jazz Ensemble plays way out.

This year's Jazz Ensemble was not organized until the latter part of the second quarter. Other than the members of Mr.

Wyatt's Jazz Ensemble class, there were students who volunteered their lunch periods to participate in all the practices.

The Jazz Ensemble played often, in spite of its late start, and presented excellent performances each time. Among the many performances they gave were at the Spring Concert, the Pops Concert, and at Jazz Festivals throughout the Southland.

Top Right: Mr. Wyatt sets the beat. Middle Right: Richard plays a mellow trombone. Bottom Left: Kenny begins to play his clarinet solo. Bottom Right-Jazz Ensemble-Bottom Row: Donald Banks, Ron Harkey, Jeff Varney, Andy Lane. Row 2: Jim Kitano, Sam Paano, Frank Javier, Jack Edwards, Penni Webster, Kenny Lunde, Nora Ennis. Fine performances highlight orchestra season.

Strings were one of the keys to the orchestra's success in 1977-78. Under the direction of Mr. Wyatt and concert master Scott Hopson, the orchestra gave an excellent performance at their December debut, Evensong. With a large number of returning members and a talented group of incoming sophomores, the orchestra's chance for success looked very bright. And bright it was. Many fine performances were given throughout the area and included the Spring Festival, Spring Concert, and the school's musical production, Carousel.

Our million dollar Media Center opens for the fall '78.

In the spring of 1975, a committee of students and teachers met with library experts and toured neighboring media centers in order to obtain the latest ideas for our anticipated Media Center. As a result, the proposal written that summer was accepted by the school district and Kenneth Wing was selected to be the architect.

The next fall, the old industrial arts building was demolished and in May, 1977, the ground was broken for the new Center. Construction continued rapidly, and the building was to be completed by May, with the official opening coming this fall.

The Media Center will house books, periodicals, filmstrips, cassettes, records and slides. It will also have an audio-visual hardware distribution station, a career center with a CVIS terminal, media production room, periodical storage, workroom, viewing and listening room, typing and conference rooms, and the main media area. A ticket booth and a refreshment station will be located on the side of the building facing the stadium.

The area surrounding the Media Center will be completely paved and landscaped and the drainage system built into the front walkway should keep the campus from flooding in wet weather. Another outstanding feature of the Media Center is also a school district first: the building's water will be heated by solar energy!

Pam and Lovell reign at Sweetheart Dance.

The annual Sweetheart Dance was held on February 16 from 7:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. in the gym. The dress for the occasion was semi-formal. We danced to the music of "Hollywood Brass and Co" and witnessed the crowning of the court. The court consisted of Pam Bundrick, Senior Queen; Lovell Williams, Senior King; Alicia Phillips, Senior Princess; Brian Helm, Senior Prince; Dana Miller, Junior Princess; Mike Montgomery, Junior Prince; Jacki Harris, Sophomore Princess and Jeff Foster, Sophomore Prince. A good time was had by all.

Talent showcased in Repertory '78.

This year's Repertory production was an outstanding extravaganza. The drama department succeeded in putting together a remarkable showcase of Jordan talent.

Students highlighting this carnival of communications included Lisa Goldsmith, Ron Slack, John Courter, Mary Lokey, Leslie Morgan, and Diane Botsford. In addition to these performers, the entire cast consisted of over forty players that sang, danced, performed skits, and displayed their many talents.

Laura Martin, student director; Dr. McMenemy, director; and Jordan graduate Julie Rayburn, choreographer, guided the entire production. The hard work of the Repertory cast did not go unrewarded. The audiences received the production in a warm and appreciative manner.

Jordan presents Carousel.

Since 1972, Jordan's Performing Arts Council under the direction of Dr. McMenamin has produced seven musicals: OLIVER ('72); THE KING AND I ('73); THE MUSIC MAN ('74); MAME ('75); UNSINKABLE MOLLY BROWN ('76); SOUTH PACIFIC ('77) and this year's endearing CAROUSEL ('78).

Spring musicals draw talent from the entire campus. After students are selected by the Council, they are programmed into performing arts classes in combination with an intense, ten week, after-school rehearsal schedule.

From tryouts to curtain calls, the results are truly remarkable.

Jordan is justifiably proud of its exciting tradition of quality musicals.

Snowflake Dance sparks Christmas season.

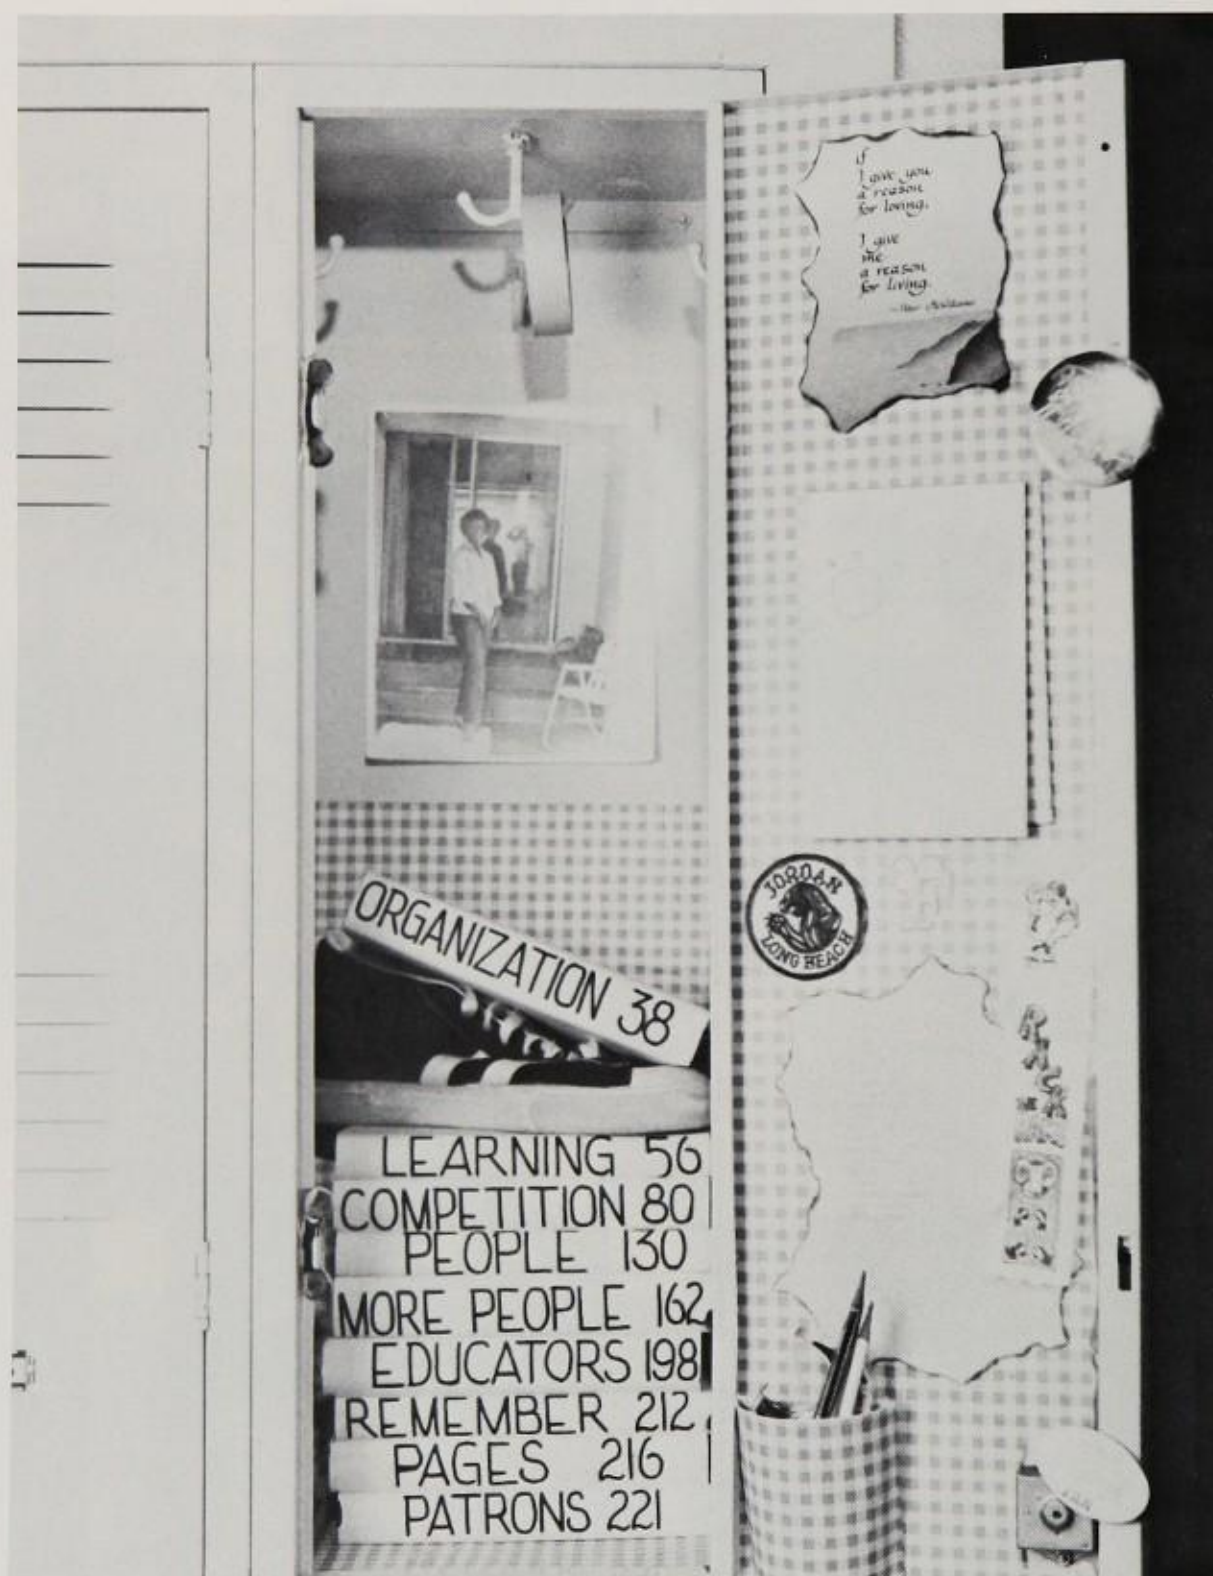

This year's Snowflake Dance was held off-campus at the Lafayette Hotel. Done with colors of green, red and white the Christmas season was felt by all who attended. Everyone danced under the pleasant sounds of the live band, "Harmony." It was a terrific way to start the holiday season.

Getting together with friends, sharing the same interests, achieving the same goals...

Minority

The Minority Club has had many new and exciting experiences happening to it on campus this year. The club placed first in the booth decoration contest during Homecoming, and their performance in the Black History Week Assembly won top honors. The twenty-six members along with their sponsors, Mrs. Smith and Mr. Meacham, helped to promote better relationships between all students here at Jordan.

The motivation of Shutterbugs is to enrich our lives with cameras and pictures. Seldom can a shutterbug be caught without his camera peering into your life. Club members have fun and once in a while, work on candy slaes, work for the Cat's Purr and Trailblazer-all outlets for their talents, energy, and enthusiasm.

Casaba is a unique club on campus; it consists of members from the basketball teams. The club's purpose is to organize and raise money for basketball activities which provide fun and togetherness for the members of the club.

Key Club

This year's Key Club was one of the best that Jordan has seen on its campus. Its success was attributed to all of the students involved and the superb Kiwanis organization which sponsored the club. The Key Club's theme for the year was "Fulfill Man's Hope For Tomorrow."

Key Club objectives for '77-'78 included developing initiative and leadership, serving the school and community, and encouraging useful citizenship.

The group has experienced a "rebirth" in comparison to its almost total inactivity in the past. This came about with a new group of enthusiastic guys willing to volunteer their time, money and effort. Among the many activities in which the club participated this year were working at the Kiwanis-sponsored JV Basketball Tournament, collecting canned foods for needy families, candy sales, Homecoming, and singing Christmas carols to patients in convalescent hospitals. Key also formed a singing group to enter the canteen-sponsored Gong Show.

Chess

Keywanettes

Concentration! That's the main ingredient for an outstanding Chess Club, and our club members are master chefs. The Chess Club, consisting of twenty members, is in its first year of existence, and the members are playing in a masterful manner. They test their wits in intra-school competition to determine who is the champion.

Keywanette Club, like the boys' Key Club, is under the sponsorship of Kiwanians, an international men's service club.

The activities of Keywanettes fall into three categories: First and most important is service to the school and to our community. Our service project this year included escorting orthopedically handicapped Jordan students between classes; hosting a party with gifts and refreshments at the Exceptional Children's Home; providing clothing, magazines, and gifts to patients in the Long Beach Inter-Community Sanitarium; and Christmas' carolling two nights at various convalescent hospitals.

Secondly, the club engages in fund-raising projects to finance social activity and contribute to the support of Jordan's Student Body Fund. Carrying out the Polynesian theme at this year's Homecoming, the members decorated a booth and sold flower corsages and sno-cones. Other sales including selling See's Suckers and supervising a refreshment stand at spring track meets.

Last, but equally important, were social activities with the primary purpose of getting to know one another and to develop a sense of togetherness and belonging within the group. Most social events were held jointly with the Key Club. These included an installation dinner and pinning ceremony, parties in homes, and a three-day snow trip.

Anchor is a girls' service club that serves the community and Jordan High School. Sponsored by Mrs. Stewart, Anchor has been devised to assist in school functions, such as Homecoming and other on campus activities.

Ping Pong

Ping pong club was organized this year to allow Jordan High School students to enjoy the game. The club teaches any member who doesn't know how to play the game properly to do so. Club members compete among each other and endeavor to engage in matches with other clubs or schools. The club's main goal is to have fun and learn how to get along with others successfully.

Top Row: Dave Prechtl, Mike Elis, Scott Fisher, Kevin Morelock, Bryan Gilbreath, Ron Rivers, Raymond Brown, Andy Wilfong, Vincent Masterson, Tina Sanders, Phil Thompson, Terry Neal.

Most people might think that track is masochism. These people push their strength and endurance to what sometimes seems "beyond the limit," and seem to get enjoyment out of it. But what these people are doing is trying to give Jordan High the best track team around.

This year the Jordan Horsehiders were kept very busy. Aside from playing baseball, they were involved in various service projects to raise money to pay for new equipment. They also helped out at Homecoming.

These dedicated baseball players, along with their coach, Mr. Green, were in the Panther spirit on and off season. They all are exceptional athletes and are a great source of Jordan's pride.

"Rowdy Rooters, Rowdy Rooters, Rowdy Rooters, yeah!"

If you have ever heard this cheer while walking along the Jordan campus you know the Rowdy Rooters are near. They were a very peppy group this year. The club helped to get the crowds at the football games in the "Panther Spirit"!

Rowdy Rooters consisted of about twenty enthusiastic girls with very strong lungs. Their favorite cheer was "Let's get a little bit rowdy, r-o-w-d-y" and rowdy they were.

The Vocational Industrial Clubs of America is affiliated with the state and national VICA club. The purpose of VICA is to develop an interest in vocational skills, enthusiasm for learning and good workmanship, and prepares members for leadership in the world of work. Members have local, state, national and international competition in vocational and leadership skills. In addition, the club goes on field trips and has other local activities.

Interact

Interact is a club which serves the school and community. Interact members attend social events and go on trips. One of their school service projects this year was raising money to fix up the weight room. They raised money by having car rallies and having candy sales.

Leadership, experience, and opportunity are LEO, a club sponsored by the North Long Beach Lion's Club. The Leo's are devoted to serving charitable causes and organizations. However, the LEO activities are not limited to service projects. This service club also serves its members with leisure activities and fun-time projects.

Quill & Scroll

The Foundation

Quill and Scroll is a club open to all students who are enrolled in a beginning or an advanced journalism class. The club helps students to get more involved in their school while providing opportunities for them to learn more about the workings of the media.

The club operated a booth on Homecoming Day when they sold South Sea soda. They also had several candy sales, but the culmination of the year came at the annual banquet held in June. During the banquet, awards were presented for such areas as Best Editor, Best Writer, and Most Improved Writer.

The Foundation is Jordan High's science fiction club. This year's activities included attending several science fiction conventions, running a Homecoming booth, visiting Rockwell Space Division in Downey, and attending science fiction movies. The Foundation firmly believes that science fiction is an important and serious art form which is relevant to our modern technological society.

Step up and see Anna Roisman and Mark Cook at The Foundation Saucer Toss and be a winner!

Grapplers

The activity side of the wrestling team is known as the Grapplers. The year's activities included candy sales, the proceeds of which helped pay for the breakfasts of the wrestlers when the team traveled away to tournaments. The money earned also aided in financing the wrestling banquet which was held in the spring.

AFS members look anxiously attentive at recent meeting.

Debbie Ayala was our foreign exchange student for the 77-78 school year. Debbie is from Caracas, Venezuela and came to American in August of 1977. She was a member of AFS club, Keywanettes, and the Student Council.

Debbie feels her experience at Jordan will be "of great benefit" to her when she returns home to South America. Other exchange students were Jim Walker, who went to Micronesia for the summer and Nancy Warner, who visited Minnesota for one semester.

The American Field Service has been a very active club this year. Some of their activities consisted of a kidnap of the foreign exchange students from Jordan, Wilson, Poly, and Lakewood; a Rock-a-thon; and a stock-share drive to earn money for AFS funds. The money earned from these drives goes to the purchase of a class ring, a yearbook, and tickets for Grad Night for our foreign exchange student. AFS is not only concerned with receiving students, but also with sending them to other countries. It's a chance for families to share their homes with students from other countries.

Choral groups perform Bach to rock

Vocal Ensemble is a select group which represents Jordan musically on and off campus. Four members of this group were chosen for a sight-singing honor choir at Cal State Long Beach; one member represented Jordan in the Southern California Vocal Association honor choir. From "Bach to rock," this group performed all kinds of music with style and competence.

A Cappella Choir is an outstanding group that sang at many performances this year. They performed at the L.B.C.C. Invitational Festival; the new Terrace Theatre; the Southern California Vocal Association Choir Festival; and at all Jordan choral concerts, as well as Vespers and Commencement.

The Chorus seems to grow in quantity and quality each year. This group, open to all Jordan students, performed admirably at all Jordan Choral Concerts.

Cecelian singers consisted of a truly fine, talented treble ensemble. For the first time this group employed choreography on some of their numbers. They represented Jordan well at an invitational festival at Lakewood, at a Southern California Vocal Association festival, and all Jordan Choral performances. Three of the girls in this group make up three-fourths of a quartet that represented Jordan at many community functions this year.

All the choirs caroled in the halls the week before Christmas vacation, a tradition enjoyed for many years here at Jordan.

Homecoming sponsored by fall council

The fall student council was indeed a productive one. The group was for the most part inexperienced, but they adjusted very well and each member quickly became proficient in his duties. The council's greatest achievement was a successful Homecoming for which the members had only four weeks to prepare. Many activities were planned during the semester including the Snowflake Dance, a pumpkin carving contest, and surprise lunch time activities such as the first annual "Turkey of the Month" contest.

Spring council promotes activities.

Productivity was a major goal of spring student council. The council took on the difficult job of keeping the students at Jordan active in the "dog days" of March, April, and May through providing interesting activities which the students asked for in a schoolwide poll. Once initiated, each activity was carefully organized and carried out. Each member of the council worked hard to accomplish the group's goals.

Thespians establish and advance standards of excellence in all phases of theater by aspiring to and achieving professional performances. When students earn 15 points, they are invited to join the troupe. Activities range from children's theater, variety shows, play competitions, to musicals. Thespians give awards to outstanding performers and offer services to the student body and the community throughout the year.

Dancers display talent in spring show.

Devoted, hard working, and talented describes this year's dance classes. Modern Dance consists of three classes: beginning dance, advanced dance, and advanced dance-second year. The group's talents are many and varied ranging from tap, ballet, and jazz to modern dance styles.

The dance groups presented their annual dance concert in April. The dance numbers performed included "Yes Sir, That's My Baby," "Tornado," and "Chim Chim Cheree." The classes worked hard all year to perfect each dance. The concert included a special guest appearance by alumna Tina Gonzales performing to "New York, New York" in which some of the advanced dancers added their talents. Beginning dance also had a chance to display its talents in the concert under the supervision of Mrs. Breskovich.

SUN provides exciting educational experiences.

This is the second year at Jordan for SUN. This alternative school is run by students working with teachers. The teachers include Neil Van Steenberg, Marie Tollstrup and Sarah Carty. This is Sarah's first year in SUN and at Jordan.

One of SUN's goals for each individual is to take responsibility for himself or herself. SUN is more than just a schedule of classes. The members grow as a group by doing things together. They visited Houghton Park and gave senior citizens Christmas parties. They went Christmas caroling at rest homes, and some SUN students worked as volunteers in child care at the Facilities Center. In SUN, everyone's voice is heard.

Jordan's JROTC marches to competitive honors.

Students enrolled in Junior Reserve Officers' Training Corps learn basically about military subjects. The course helps make better and more aware citizens. It strongly stresses leadership.

JROTC teaches things involved in the service such as weapons, marksmanship training, map reading, and methods of instruction. Oral composition and writing are also taught.

Keeping physically fit is also very important. Many extracurricular activities are offered in addition to regular classroom subjects.

Bi-lingual education explores the best of both worlds.

The bi-lingual program is much more than most people would think. Funded by the state — not the district — it not only offers Latin speaking students bi-lingual math, science, grammar and composition, and English as a second language, but also offers a Spanish class to the students to develop knowledge and skills in their native language. The program's motive is not only to educate Latin American students so they can graduate, but also to help them understand and appreciate both of their cultures.

Bilingual students study hard.

ROC/P students learn many different skills.

It takes great concentration

Que pasa-what's happening?

ROC/P helps to make the future rewarding.

Regional Occupation Center/Program classes meet daily for two or three periods and grant ten or fifteen credits per semester. ROC/P is a career educational system which provides special skill and training programs to help students prepare for employment. Some of the ROC/P classes at Jordan this year are aviation occupations, auto body repair, fashion merchandising, heavy metals, brick masonry, industrial electricity, motorcycle and small engine repair, auto mechanic occupations, building construction, and offset printing. The programs are held at four high schools, one junior high, Long Beach City College, private businesses, industries, and community sites. These classes are not included in the regular school program but are available to juniors and seniors.

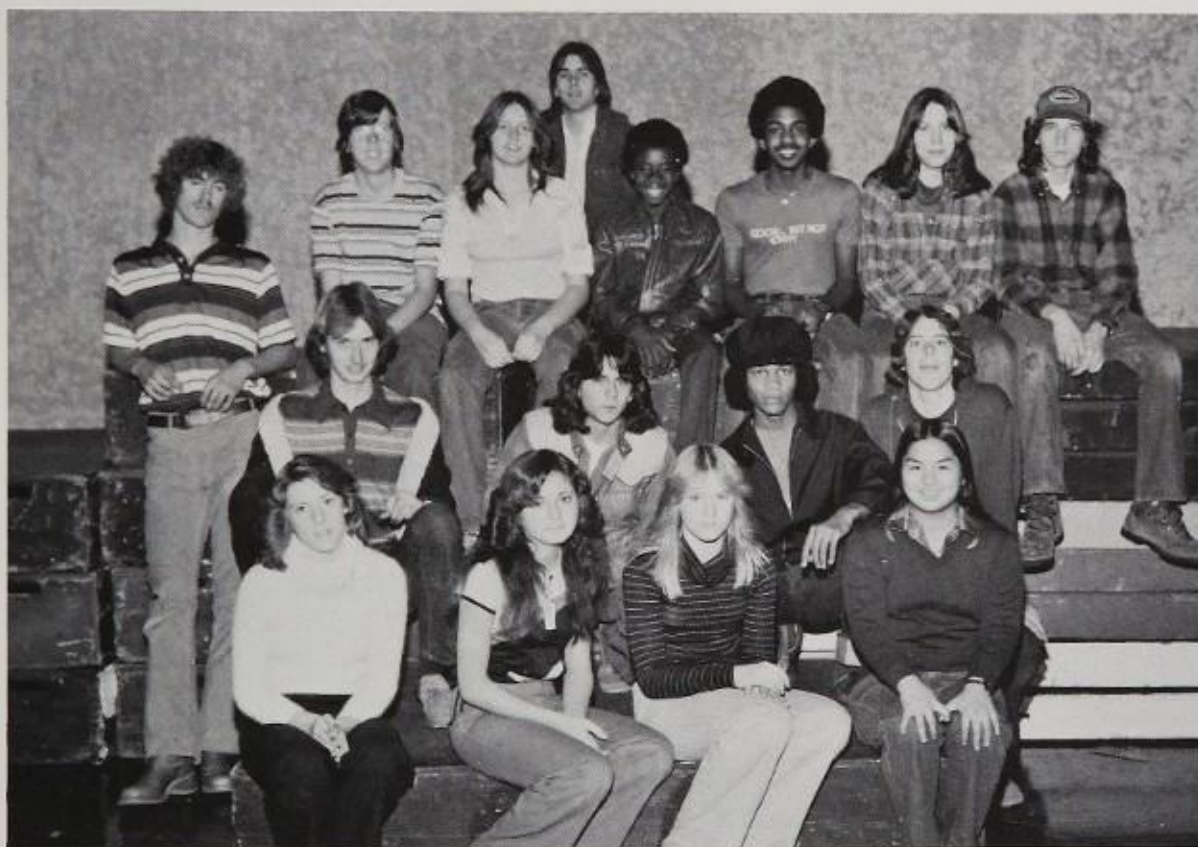

Successful productions result from efforts of Stage Crew.

If there was ever an active group of people on the Jordan campus, it was the Stage Crew. These enthusiastic people were responsible for such things as the lighting and arranging of all of Jordan's assemblies, football games, and pep rallies.

The Stage Crew was the backbone of this year's spring musical, Carousel, by moving props, giving cues, and helping to make things run smoothly.

Aided by Mr. Greeley and their Stage Technician, Lance Fritz, the Stage Crew consisted of twenty-five students. These people worked hard this year to make all of our assemblies the finest.

Hot off the presses . . .

The Cat's Purr, Jordan's own newspaper, brought news of everything that had happened, was happening, or was about to happen to the students and faculty at Jordan. The Cat's Purr was published this year by a staff of twelve students. With the help and advice of Mrs. Anderson, Cat's Purr advisor, and Mr. Livermore and Mr. Schumow, printing advisors and the Jordan graphic arts classes, the staff worked diligently to publish the best publication possible. For the first year ever, the staff received a first place rating by the National Scholastic Press Association. Mrs. Anderson said, "Although small in number, this year's staff provided a real service to the school in giving Jordan a quality newspaper."

Remember the time . . .

You might have heard this in cross country, track, or swimming or you might be thinking about it in the closing moments of a football, basketball, water polo, or baseball game. Maybe you were remembering the timing in wrestling or gymnastics. Whatever kind it was, competition was all around us. Whether we participated actively, coached, or just cheered our teams to victory; it was one of our most important activities as it consumed most of our time and money.

Remember

Sack-that-quarterback

In the past, Jordan has always had a strong defensive unit. This year was no exception. Led by MVP's Verne Welch, Bart Harmon and Martin Anderson, the defense played brilliantly in several games throughout the season.

In spite of a sharp defensive unit, the promise of a high-powered offense never materialized. The Panthers were stung by numerous injuries to key players early in the season and never got back on the right track. Offensive MVP's included Gordon Dimas, Mike Holm, and Martin Anderson who contributed greatly to our victory over Beverly Hills.

The Panthers faced a tough schedule with six of their nine opponents advancing to the CIF play-offs; this helped contribute to a season record of one win and eight losses by the varsity.

Rookie Head Coach Yamano has started his rebuilding program and is looking forward to 1978. Next year promises to be an exciting year for the Panthers who return nine lettermen.

Ramiro Orellano moves fast to catch a Lakewood player attempting to get inside the offensive line.

JV's tie for third.

The junior varsity's season was one of the brighter spots in Jordan's football program this year. Coach Clanton's team got off to a slow start, but with the help of the offensive knowledge of Coach Keck, turned the season around with a 27-0 victory over Pius X. The team defeated Lakewood, 20-7 in their Moore league opener and upset Millikan, 20-8 for a tie for first place. They then lost two disappointing games to Compton and Poly and finished tied for third place in the Moore League.

Junior varsity award winners for 1977 were: Darren Shaw-MVP, Mark Burkes-Defense, and Brian Gilbreath-Offense. Other outstanding players included Kim Aiken, Terry Swenson, and Rick Womack.

Sophs season disappointing.

The Jordan High sophomore team made a gallant effort to obtain a winning season in 1977 but was unsuccessful, turning in a one win and eight loss season record.

Some of the outstanding players on defense were Ron Samuels who won the outstanding defensive player award, Mark Frelow, Jeff Foster, Ron Conover, Dennis Smith, Alfred Rowe, and Phillip Thompson who was injured in the middle of the season.

Outstanding offensive players included Alfred Rowe who won the outstanding offensive player award, Lynn Koehmstedt, Bob Bright, Mike Davis, David Nereu, Kenny Phelps, and Phillip Thompson. The most inspirational player award went to Jeff Foster.

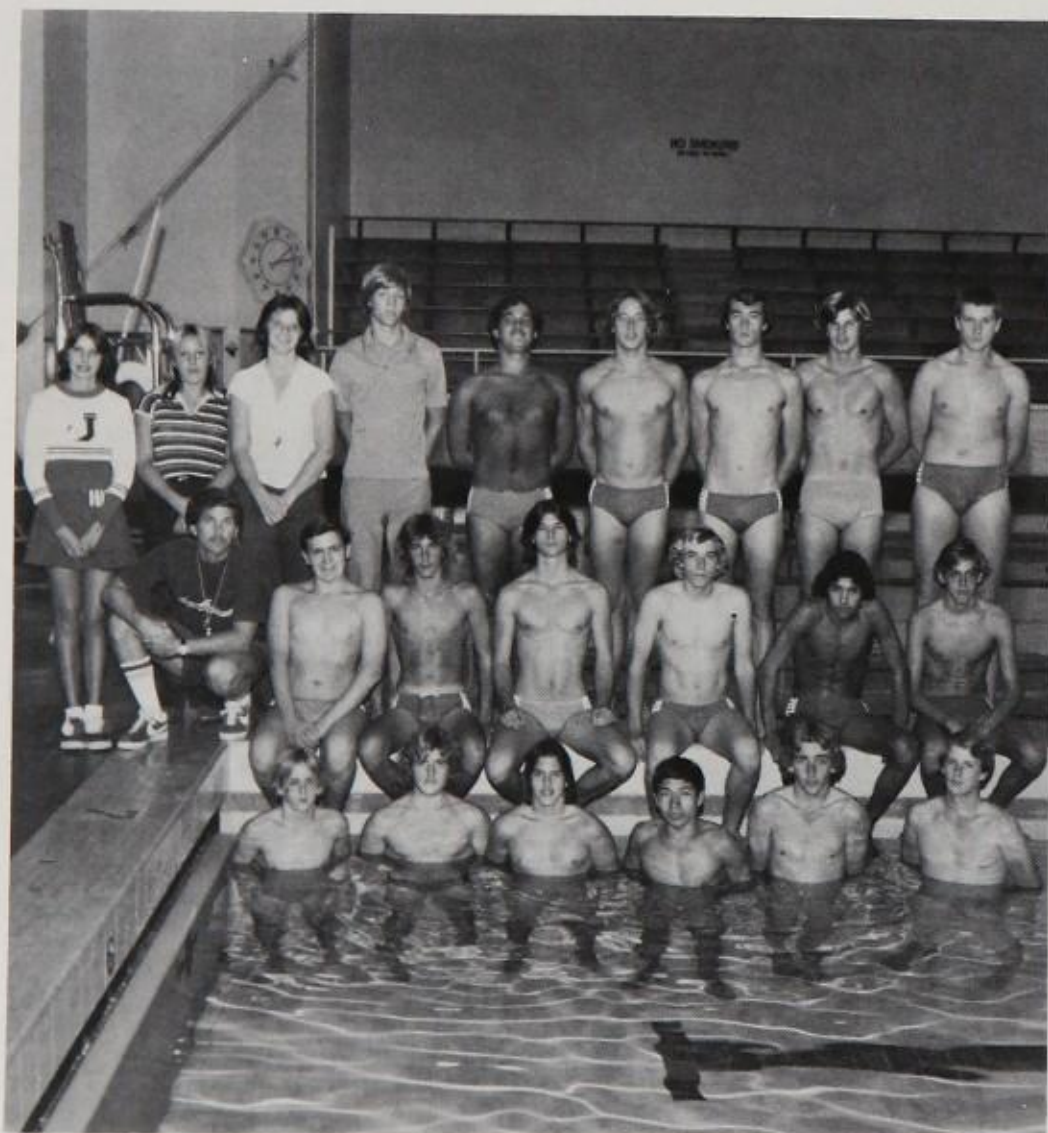

Exciting play sustains poloists.

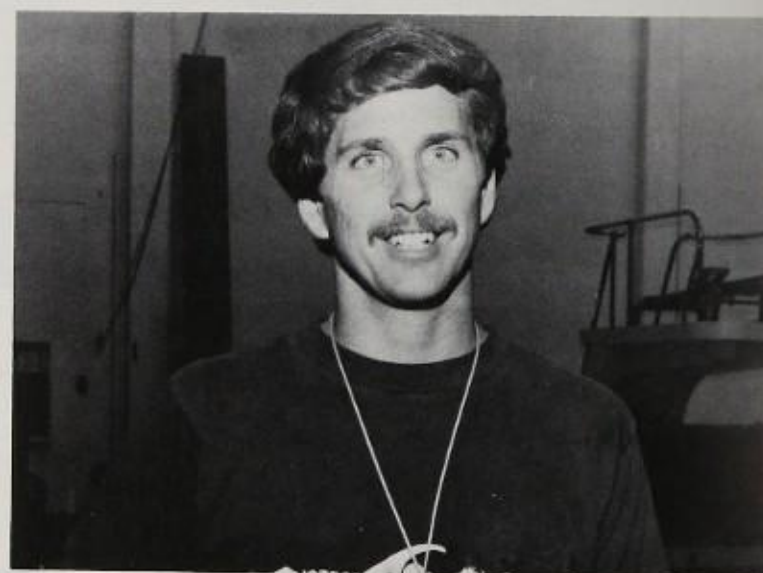

The varsity water polo team worked hard all summer and fall. They participated in various summer AAU leagues, and they learned many different techniques of the game through the first semester. Yet their season was a disappointing one. However, Randy Butler, Chris Rangel, Jim Cords, Jeff Muncy and Jay Mitchell provided thrills and successful play that made Jordan's varsity water polo team exciting to watch.

Soph poloists have difficulty reaching their goal.

Sophomore water polo enjoyed a fairly successful season for 1977. There were a few games when the team played exceptionally well; however, they also had a few disappointing losses in Moore League play. The team was sparked and motivated by Kevin Wilson and Rick Todd while David Nelson did an outstanding job as goalie.

The gate was locked.

That's how it was all season. With a new coach, Hartzell Alpizar, and a new three mile course, (one mile longer than last year), the team started out with great potential with three returning varsity lettermen-Mike Ellis, Andy Bridges, and Jim King, and j.v. Dave Prechtl, who all helped the team run to a co-championship last year. Also, Dan Campbell, a strong runner from L.A. Jordan, joined the team.

As the season progressed, though, because of illness and injuries, the harriers fell into a fourth place position. Borrowing Dave Harper, Dave Rose, and Abel Dominguez from the j.v. team to finish the season, the varsity retained its fourth place position.

The expression on Dave Precht's face shows the pain and determination needed to complete a three mile race.

Change . . .

This was the main factor in the j.v. cross country season. The season started out with a change from two miles to three miles.

This made the pace easier, but the extra mile added more challenge.

This j.v. team had much more depth than last year's because of two returning lettermen-Mike Myers and Travis Green. Besides last year's talent the team had an outstanding performance by sophomore David Harper who started as a j.v. and was immediately moved up to varsity. There was another runner, Dean Palmer, who was expected to run varsity at the beginning of the year, but was injured. These two factors made the season harder than expected. In spite of this the Panthers did not give up- they still had Abdalha Hirezi, Travis Green, and Mike Myers who were the leaders most of the season. The team did well, despite the challenge posed by change.

Abel Dominguez finishes strong to make it a close meet against Millikan.

Drowning in a sea of red, the j.v.'s struggled to the surface but lost a close meet to Lakewood.

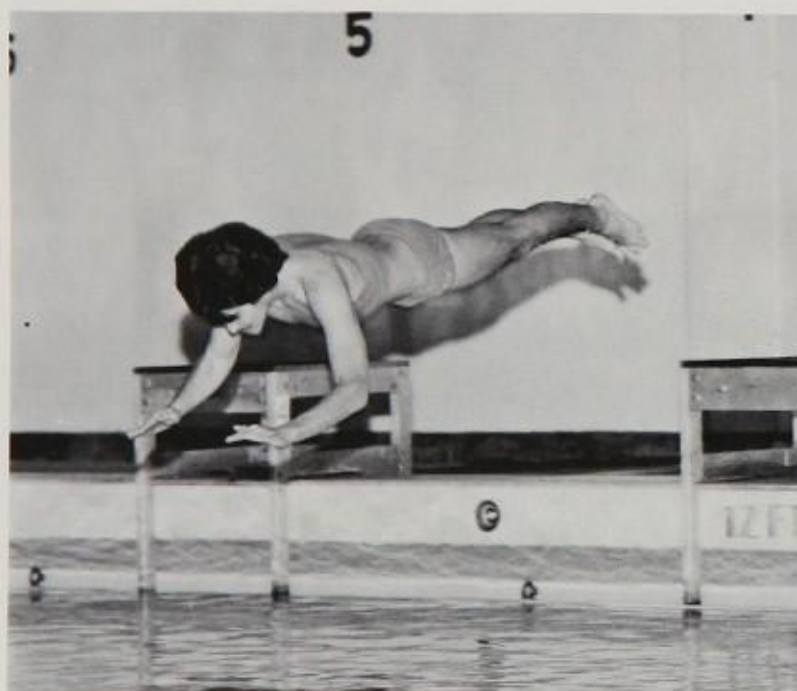

Swimmers face tough Moore League opposition.

This year's swimming team was highlighted by two of the best swimmers since the dawn of Jordan's history. Randy Butler, a senior, led the team by qualifying for C.I.F. two years in a row; and Rick Todd, the best sophomore swimmer ever to come to Jordan, broke almost every sophomore record. But without much depth in the rest of the team, the league record wasn't exceptional.

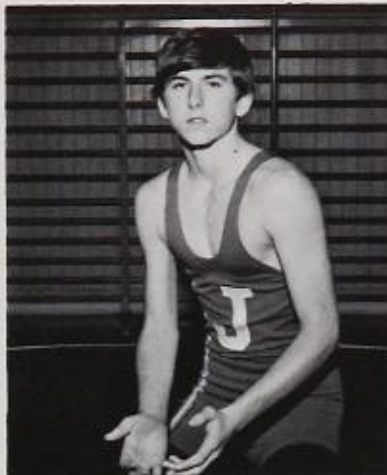

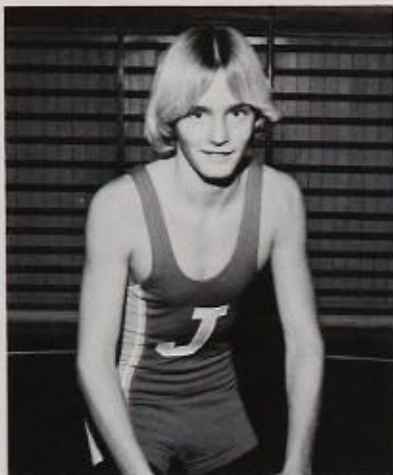

Varsity-Sitting: Todd Peterson, Don Grant, Doug Wyant.

Wrestlers win second place.

The Varsity Wrestlers' outlook was good for 1978. The season opened on December 31 at Montebello. Next came the El Rancho five-way where we came home with a first place trophy. At our Jordan tournaments we took a second and a third. During the Santa Fe tournament the Panthers did something no other Jordan team had done in ten years; we came home with a second place trophy.

The varsity ended the Moore League season with a record of 3-1. The team also defeated Millikan for the first time in seven years and by a Jordan team in ten years.

When the league finals were over, the Panthers tied for second to finish a successful year.

Brian Helm works for a reversal.

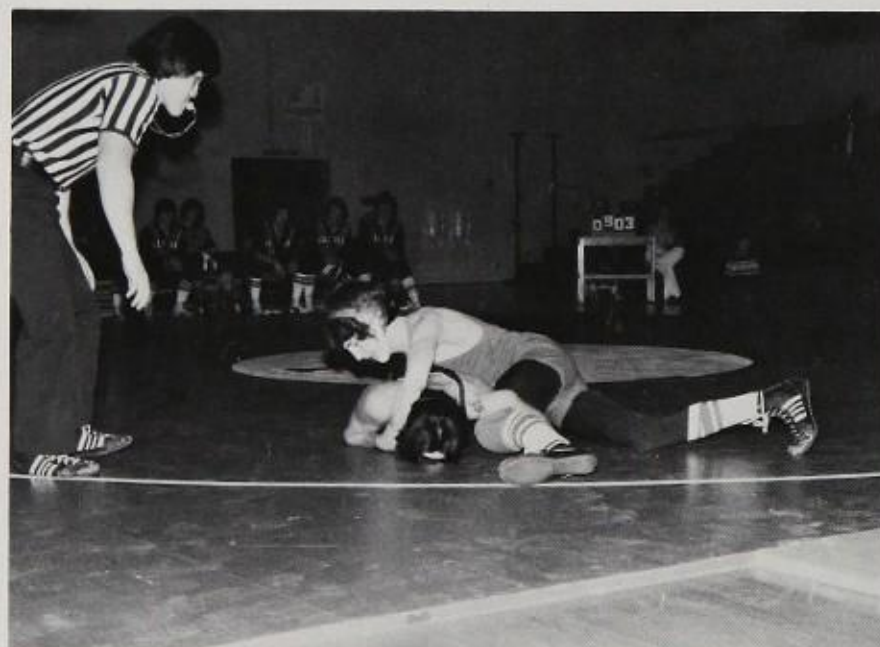

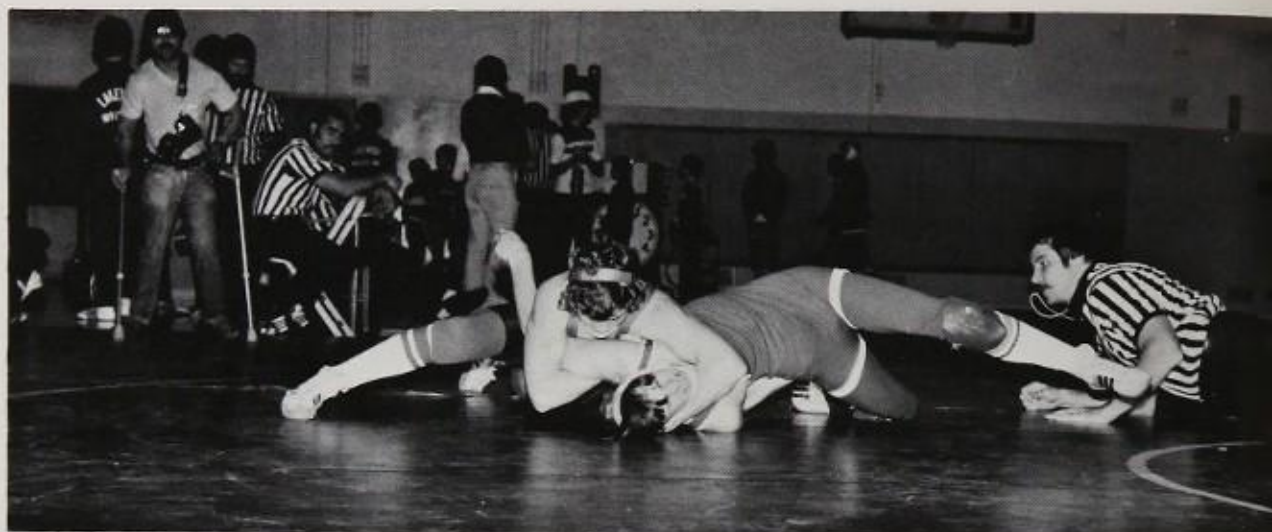

Wrestlers' record first class.

Varsity wrestlers finished 1978 with good records. Team captain Paul Smith finished with a record of (30-6-1) with a first at El Rancho and was voted outstanding wrestler of the tournament, two firsts at Jordan, a second at Santa Fe and a first in League. He placed 3rd in CIF Prelims and went on to place 6th in CIF finals. Ben Lara finished (25-7) with a first at Santa Fe and was voted outstanding wrestler of the tournament, two firsts at Jordan and a second in league. He took third in CIF prelims and was a CIF finalist.

Dave Magnuson finished (15-8) with two seconds at Jordan, a third in league and a fourth at Santa Fe. Brian Helm finished (23-9) with a first and a second at Jordan, 2nd at El Rancho, 3rd at Montebello and 2nd in league. He took a 5th in CIF prelims.

Team captain George McCarver finished (23-8-2) with a 2nd at Montebello, 2nd at El Rancho, 1st at Santa Fe, and 3rd in league. He took a 6th in CIF prelims.

J.V. matmen enjoy successful season.

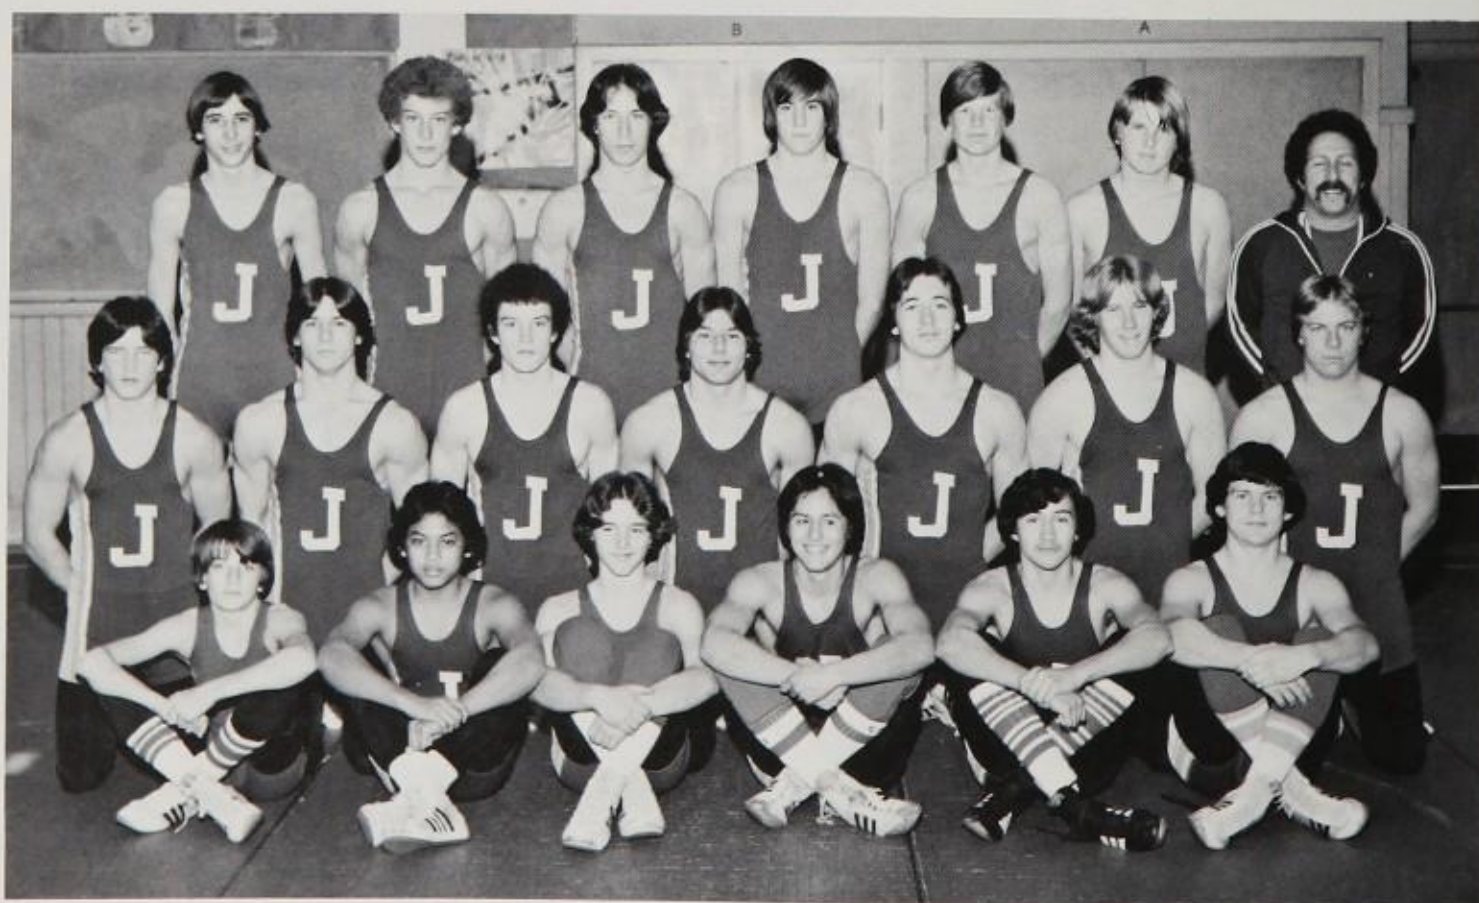

The junior varsity had a winning record of fifteen wins and four losses in '78 and earned a first place tie with Millikan and Lakewood in the Moore League. The team also took a first at El Rancho and a second at the Jordan J.V. tournament. The following wrestlers led the team: 106 lbs. Ferdie Lara had a record of 21-4 with a first at El Rancho and a first at the Moore League finals. Mike Gray at 123 lbs. had a record of 19-5-1 with a 1st at El Rancho and a 3rd at the finals. Mark Snyder at 136 lbs. was excellent as a sophomore at J.V. this year. His record was 24-3 with a first at El Rancho, a 1st at Los Altos, and a first at the finals. Darren Shaw at 148 lbs. also had a good record of 20-5 with a 2nd at El Rancho and a 1st at the finals. Another winning wrestler was Artie Strauss at 148 lbs. with a record of 21-2-1 and a 1st at El Rancho, a 3rd at Downey, and a first at the finals. We should all congratulate them for a job well done!

Close contests highlight varsity season.

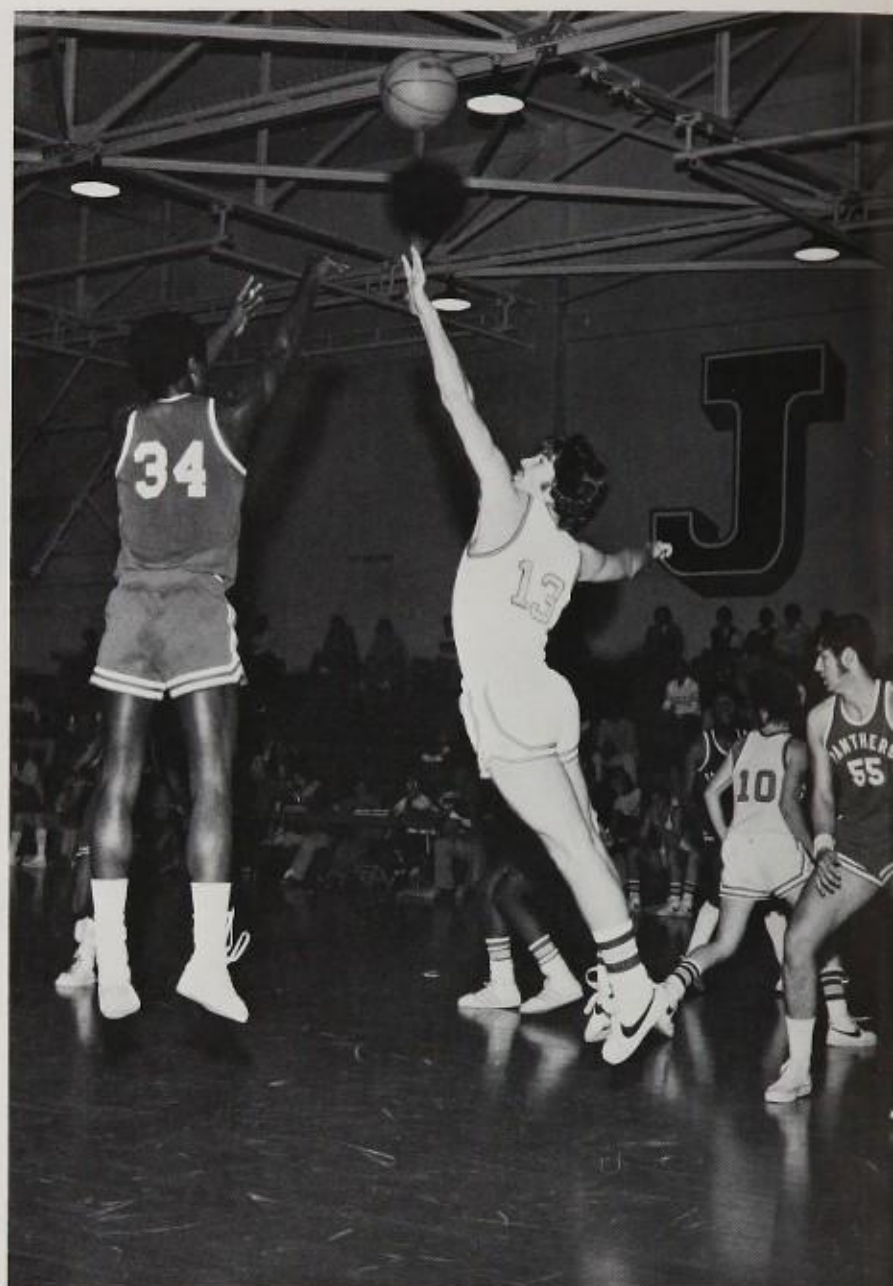

Outstanding players and individual games highlighted this year's season for the Panther varsity basketball team. The team's MVP, Moby Oliver, and his outstanding teammate Sovonto Green's scoring average of 20.5 and 17.3 respectively; along with the inspirational play of Jeff Barber, Dennis Patterson, and Brian Lassan; led the team to a 3-7 Moore League and 8-14 overall play record. However, the Panthers' schedule was a tough one playing twelve teams who advanced in the CIF play-offs and most were high in the CIF's rating poll.

Most of the games were exciting and many went into overtime as some deciding factors were on close calls and "if" plays that resulted in an "if" season. Nevertheless, every game was fascinating to watch and gave the Panther fans something to cheer about.

Donald Williams shoots over Wilson's defender for two more.

Some of the highlights of the junior varsity basketball season were a fourth place finish in the sixteen team Long Beach Jordan J.V. Invitational Tournament as well as big Moore League victories over Lakewood and Poly. Melvin Raiford, the team's MVP, showed outstanding play throughout the season. Jason Knox was the team's most improved player while Gerald Harris, Alfred McCloud, and David Lucero were also recognized for their consistent play. Overall, Coach Eden felt that this season was very successful for the Panthers.

Exciting players such as Charles Wolfe, Tom Lassan, John Barber, Larry Rose, and Kenny Williams led the sophs. in 1978. While Charles dazzled the crowd with his offensive play; Tom, John, and Kenny's all around hustle wasn't enough to outlast most of the team's opponents.

The sophomores consisted of thirteen young men who made up two teams to gain more playing experience. For them it was a long season, but the thirteen hard working young men stuck it out and showed their dedication and pride as Jordan Panthers.

Jordan gymnastics faced a tough season this year, but the Panther matmen did quite well.

Top point-getters on the squad were Dennis Hoey, Paul Herried, Jeff Whisenant, and Jim Jenkins. Also responsible for strong individual performances were the ring team of Fernando Pereyra, Jeff Beachley and Ed Ferguson.

Tennis is a sport of quick reflexes and fast feet. Coach Gordon endeavored to train team members to be panther-like on the tennis court. In March, the team began competition. Their toughest foes in league were Millikan, Wilson, and Poly.

Outstanding singles players included Greg Harnden and Adrian Murphy while the doubles teams consisted of Mark Howell and Barry Thorpe as well as Fred Pichardo and Chung Hu Yoo.

The junior varsity coached by Mr. Clanton consisting of mostly sophomores hoped to do well while gaining tennis know-how.

Varsity track leads the way to the tape in the Moore League.

Quality was the word that best explained this year's track team. The varsity was smaller than last year's team but that didn't seem to matter. It didn't matter to Mike Dyer who helped the team win in the sprinting events. Outstanding in the field events was Mel Baker who probably was the best Moore League high jumper. Distance was one area in which we were aided by senior Mike Ellis, who helped the Panthers to victories. Panther track was a great success in 1978 thanks to a team that would not give up.

Distance races show j.v. strength

Junior varsity track was definitely a distance team this year with Dave Rose pole vaulting and running the half-mile while Abel Dominguez and Dominic Hirezi led the team in the mile and two-mile races. Adding depth to the j.v.'s, Troy Flewellen ran the 100 and 220 races, and Andy Wilfong made competitors worry in the long jump and triple jump. The team while badly lacking in numbers, competed in a superior manner.

Dave Rose shows all-around style, running distance, sprints and also competing in field events.

Williams leads sophs.

Sophomore track was led in '78 by versatile Kenny Williams who competed in the high jump, long jump, triple jump, 330 low hurdles, half-mile, and one-mile races. Dave Harper was also extremely strong in the mile and two-mile runs. Other sophomores included Glenn Niess in the 440 relay and 100 yd. dash, Frank Mottram in the 880 run and Mark Lanford in the pole vault. The sophomores competed this year with much depth and gave opponent's something to think about.

LaRiviere leads golfers.

Jordan's varsity golf team completed its season led by second year senior team captain Scott LaRiviere, and Dan Torres, last season's golfer of the year at Jordan, Ron Webster, a talented sophomore, helped to bolster the varsity.

Up from last year's junior varsity were power hitter Jerry Teel, Steve Zink and Ben Aycock. Rounding out the team for 1978 were Dennis Martin, Kevin Crawford and Mike Wyatt.

Varsity baseball hoped to lead Moore League.

Varsity baseball had a positive outlook for 1978. A strong pitching staff was led by Paul Massner, Tim Thompson and Tim Duff with Stan Brown and Niddo Ryal doing the catching.

The infield proved to be hard to score against with Dell Shelton, Pat Nyberg and Greg Delacruz at first, and Bob Bright and Jim Reigh at short while Steve Wolfson was at second and Don Frazier owned third. The team was rounded out by outfielders Ramiro Orellano, Mike Johnson and Wayne Ishimine.

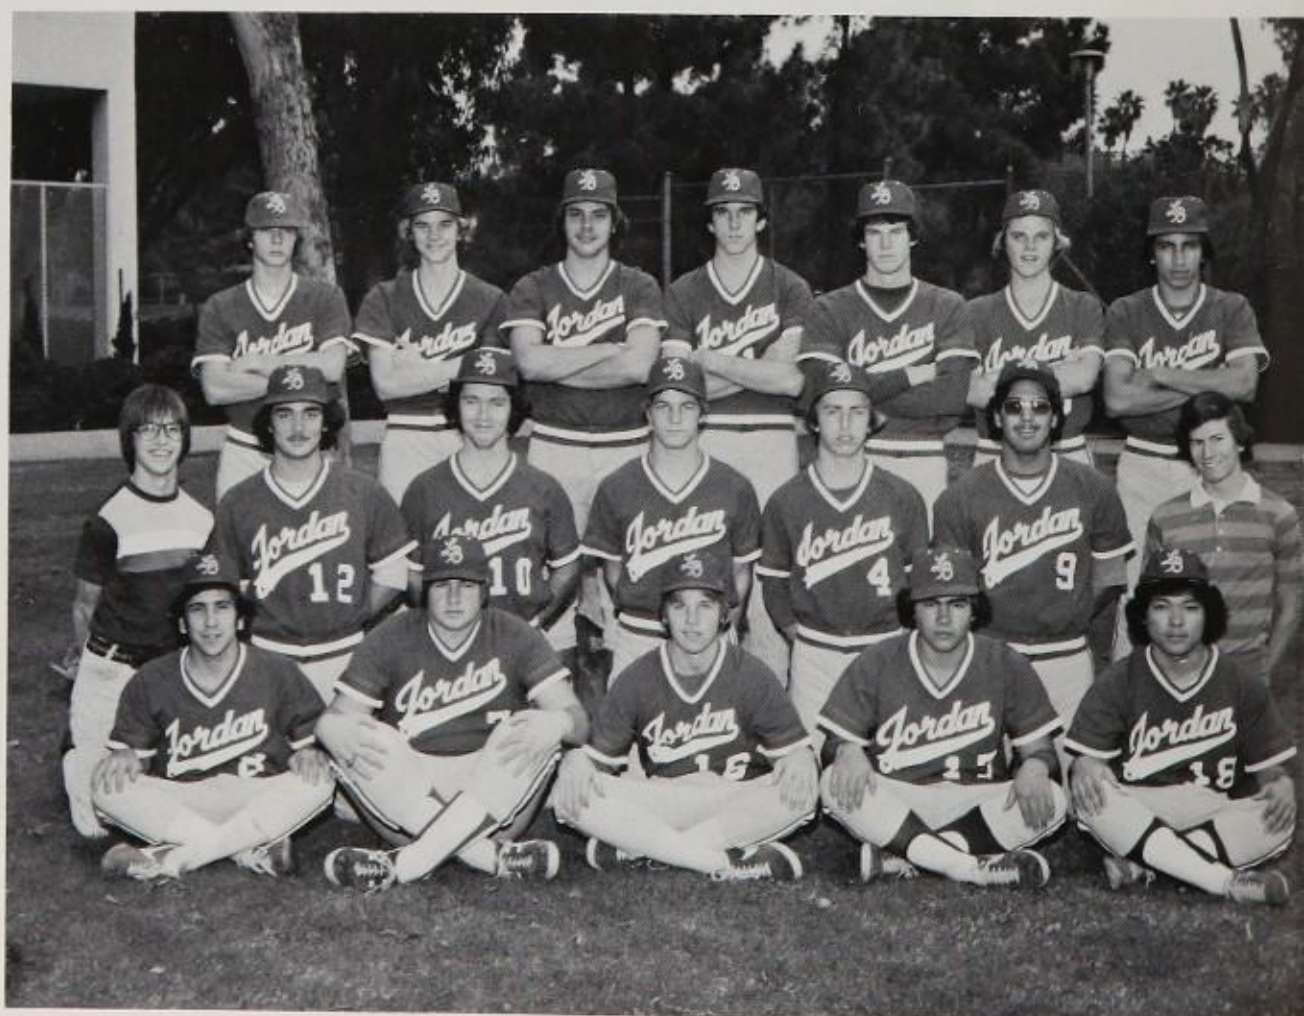

The Moore League would again offer tough competition but Coach Greene felt that the varsity had a good chance to win the league championship.

Four lettermen provide leadership for j.v. baseball.

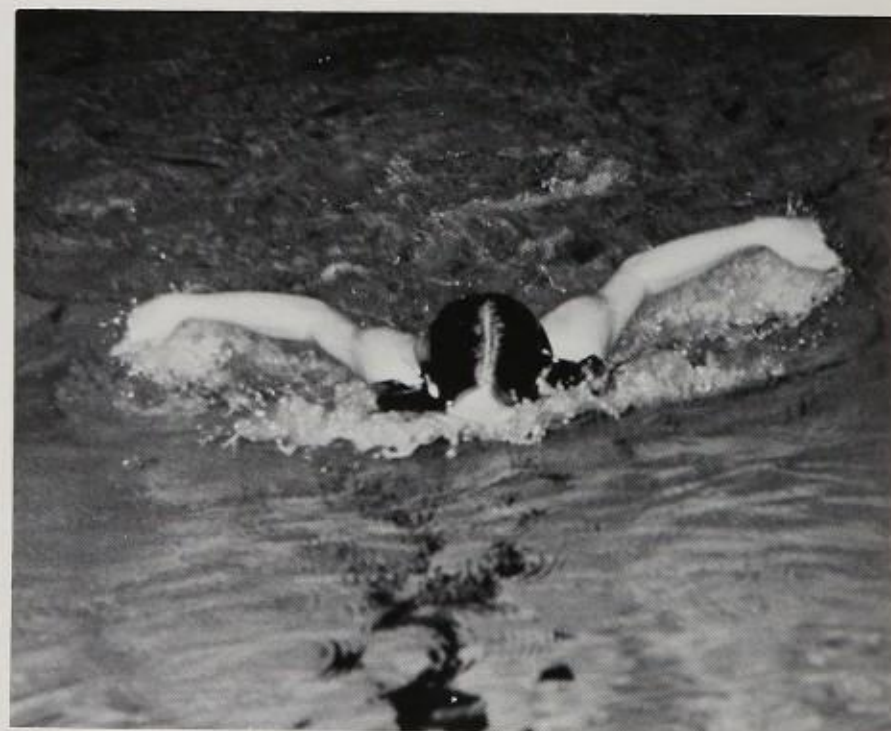

The junior varsity baseball team won a second place Moore League finish in '77. Randy Cratty, Phil Lopez, Bob Liedahl and Dave Rima were four returning lettermen who provided leadership for this year's team. Promising sophomores included Bruce Young, Brian Bumblis and Lynn Koehmstedt. League competition came primarily from Millikan and Lakewood.

1977 was a building year for the girls' tennis team after losing thirteen seniors in 1976. In spite of a rough season, outstanding players for the varsity included Most Outstanding-Janice Knoblock; Most Improved-Lisa Althoff; Most Inspirational-Janet De Castro and Sportsmanship Award-Janice Knoblock. The varsity's best singles player was Chris VanSuch while its best doubles team consisted of Susan Kurutz and Janice Knoblock. The number two doubles team was Kathy Coots and Lisa Althoff.

Our junior varsity tennis team ended up its season with three wins and seven losses. They showed fine effort. The most improved award for junior varsity was given to Tammy Clark.

J.V.'s show winning form.

Varsity volleyball coached by Miss Boot was a young team in '77. They had a tough season with a record of 2-8. They look forward to an improved team next year with seven returning letterpeople. Theresa Courmier, the varsity's most valuable player, was a very promising sophomore. Another sophomore, Stephanie Copenhaver, was outstanding in the back line.

The junior varsity this year was coached by Mrs. White. The team had a winning season with a record of 8-2. The j.v.'s were led by Tammy Velez, Vicky Garcia and Marty Kesler who was also the team's most valuable player. Jordan's junior varsity was the only team in the league to beat first place Millikan.

League honors won by runners.

This was the first year for a girls' cross country team at Jordan, and it was a winning one. The team had an overall season record of six wins and two losses. Three girls made it to the All-League team: Susie Elwell finished second in league and participated in the CIF semi-finals, Dana Miller finished fifth in league, and Michelle Martinez finished fifteenth in league. The youth of the returning runners should make next year's team one of championship caliber.

The varsity and junior varsity basketball teams enjoyed a very successful year. The varsity, who has won the city championship four out of the last seven years, was led by Katherine Hamilton at forward. She was voted All Moore League last year as a sophomore. Other returning varsity players included Gaylene Ballard, Laura Bibbs, Latishue Hamilton, Judy Ransen, Melody Roth, and Marie Shultz.

The junior varsity coached by Miss Barrett hoped to enjoy a winning season. One of the outstanding players who led the team in rebounds last season was Diane Botsford. The junior varsity in 1978 provided exciting action and swift play during league competition.

Swimmers fight hard to win.

The girls' swim team this year was small but determined. They spent many hours in the water and swam a surprising number of miles. The team had only three returnees-Diane Benak, Tammy DeLapp and Coleen Williamson. Lynn Alldredge, Aranya Diphayarom, Michelle Farnham, Lisa Miranda, Kathy Murphy, Tammy Nichols and Kim Stewart made up the rest of the team. The team competed in eight swim meets-four home, four away-a double round robin with the other Long Beach high schools.

Panthers are victorious in track and softball competition.

In its second year of CIF competition, Jordan softball proved to be a tough opponent. Both varsity and junior varsity were sparked by many outstanding sophomores which speaks of great things to come in the next two years.

Coaches Sprague and White were much impressed by the pitching performances of sophomore Robin Mays. The Moore League had better watch out for the Panthers.

This year a new team was formed, girls' track. A young team as far as experience, but you couldn't tell by looking at them. They had talent all around from the sprints to the long distance events and field events. Outstanding in their first year on this newly formed team were Pam Marshall and Merolyn Norman in the sprinting events. Out running opponents in the distance events was Michelle Martinez, a gifted sophomore, and moving up in the field events was Dawn Stutes. These girls formed the nucleus of an outstanding team.

Girls' gymnastics and badminton teams lead the way.

The newly formed girls' gym team was extremely successful in '77. Led by Yvette Mathews and Pam Blackshear, the team displayed much courage on the balance beam and floor exercises. Gaylene Adrian and Mary Runge were also among the top finishers for this season.

Girls' badminton was led through the season by a series of strong returning players. Senior Alicia Phillips was the varsity's top singles player. The doubles team of Vicky Garcia and Tammy Velez, both juniors, hoped to celebrate a victorious season. In their sophomore year, Garcia and Velez participated in the CIF play-offs.

Other girls returning from last year's net and bird team included Patty McKinney, Marianne Steiner, Jeri Barnard, Laura Lange, Kelly Mason, Stephanie Goodman, Debbie Kern, Kathy Thompson and Barbie Nesthus.

What was that name? Who was that masked man? Who was that mysterious woman? If you are asking yourself these questions, let your fingers do the walking through these pages. Spending 9/10ths of your time with people, you acquired many friends through the years. Just looking at pictures of your friends can bring back a flood of memories. Try it.

Remember the Educators.

The backbone of the school, the heavy hand of authority, the wise philosophers to talk to for advice . . .

It was a year to remember . . .

Remember the time we returned to school to the tune of the wrecker's ball and tried to concentrate on teachers' instructions to the rhythm of roaring tractors and the crash of falling walls? Yes, 1977-78 will live in our memories as a year when the campus was torn up more severely than at anytime in recent memory. But it was all for a good cause. Our new instructional media center will serve as the hub of our educational activity. It is a rich storehouse of knowledge, and it occupies the space of an obsolete industrial arts building which has already been replaced by a modern industrial occupations center. Our two newest buildings are symbolic of Jordan's changing with the times and of having facilities to match our modernized educational program.

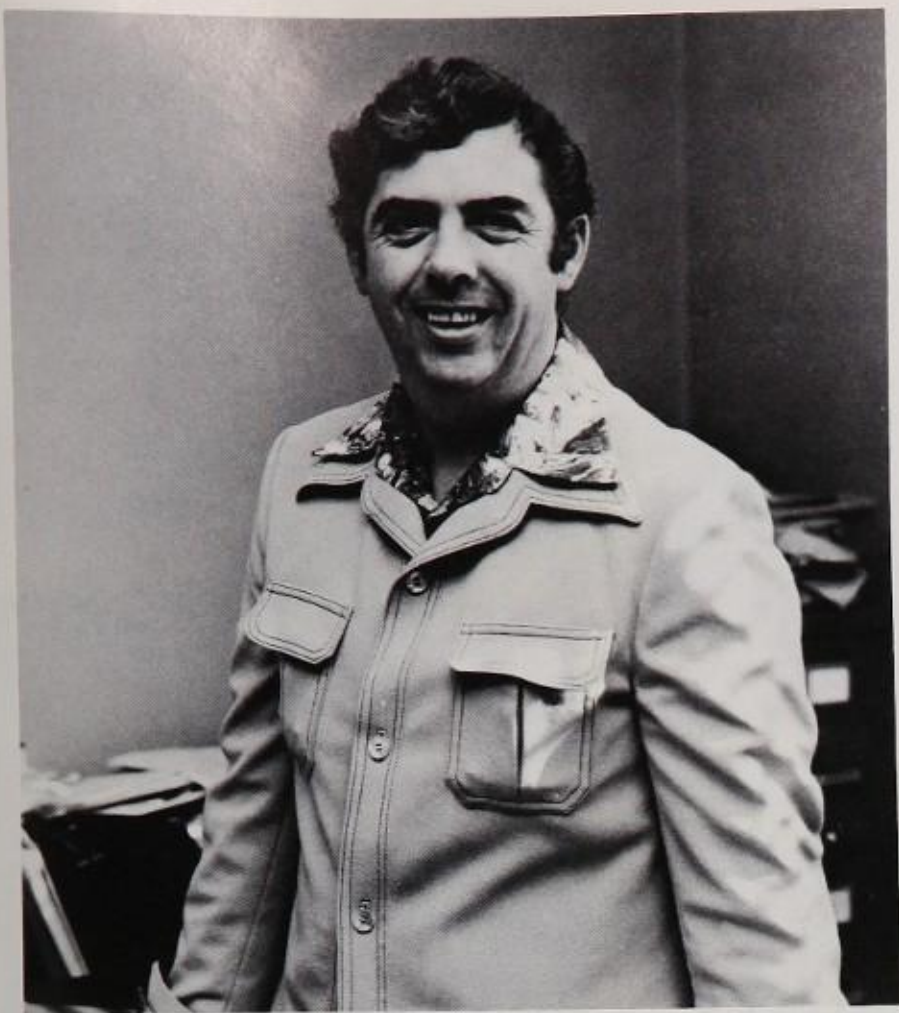

Remember the time we arrived on campus at 4 a.m. to begin decorating for Homecoming? Who was it who tried to denude the palm trees around the apartment houses to add to their booth? But it was all for a good cause. Homecoming is the time of the year when students and alumni get together to share the spirit of friendship and loyalty which is Jordan's hallmark. Our active and varied program of student activities helps us develop a feeling of community pride and regard for one another which will help us make our world a better place.

Remember the time a teacher's kind act said, "I care, and I know how you feel."? Or was it a counselor, staff assistant, or another student? The incident may have occurred in the office of an administrator, and the message at the time may have been harder to discern. But it was all for a good cause. Jordan, a large and busy place with over 2000 people — people with unique personalities and abilities and hopes and dreams—is a place where the individual counts. Staff and students work every day at good human relations and at creating a climate where the individual can survive and enjoy life in a very demanding and complex society.

Remember the time that . . . Ah well, we could go on and on with incidents that recall for each of us the joys and sorrows of a few short but very important years. As time goes on and memories blend into a general reminiscence about Jordan, it's hoped that the mind's eye will focus on a warm and pleasant image. It is hoped, also, that the image will include pride and satisfaction in the part Jordan played in preparing its students for full and rewarding lives.

Administrators fulfill major responsibilities to keep Jordan running smoothly.

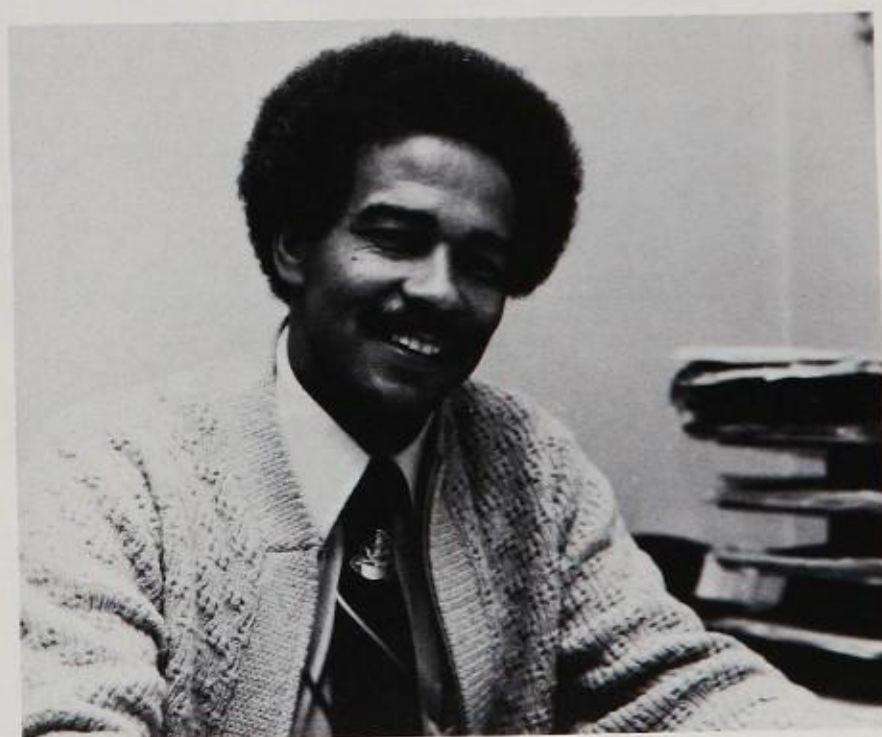

The vice-principal and assistant principals are concerned with many and varied duties and responsibilities at Jordan. Their jobs are too many to count, and the administrators generally keep the school running in a smooth manner. Supervising the departments, assembly duties, and advising Jordan's sophomore, junior, and senior classes are only a few of the many contributions these individuals have made this year to make Jordan a more stimulating place in which to go to school.

Counselors follow busy schedule.

Counselors are involved in many activities during the school day. For example, they arrange our schedules, talk to us about our problems, inform us about our grades in addition to other responsibilities.

These include helping the orthopedically handicapped, instituting school scholarships, being a department representative, promoting the work experience program among other jobs. The counslors at Jordan, indeed, have busy schedules, but they always seem to make time for their counselees.

Remember

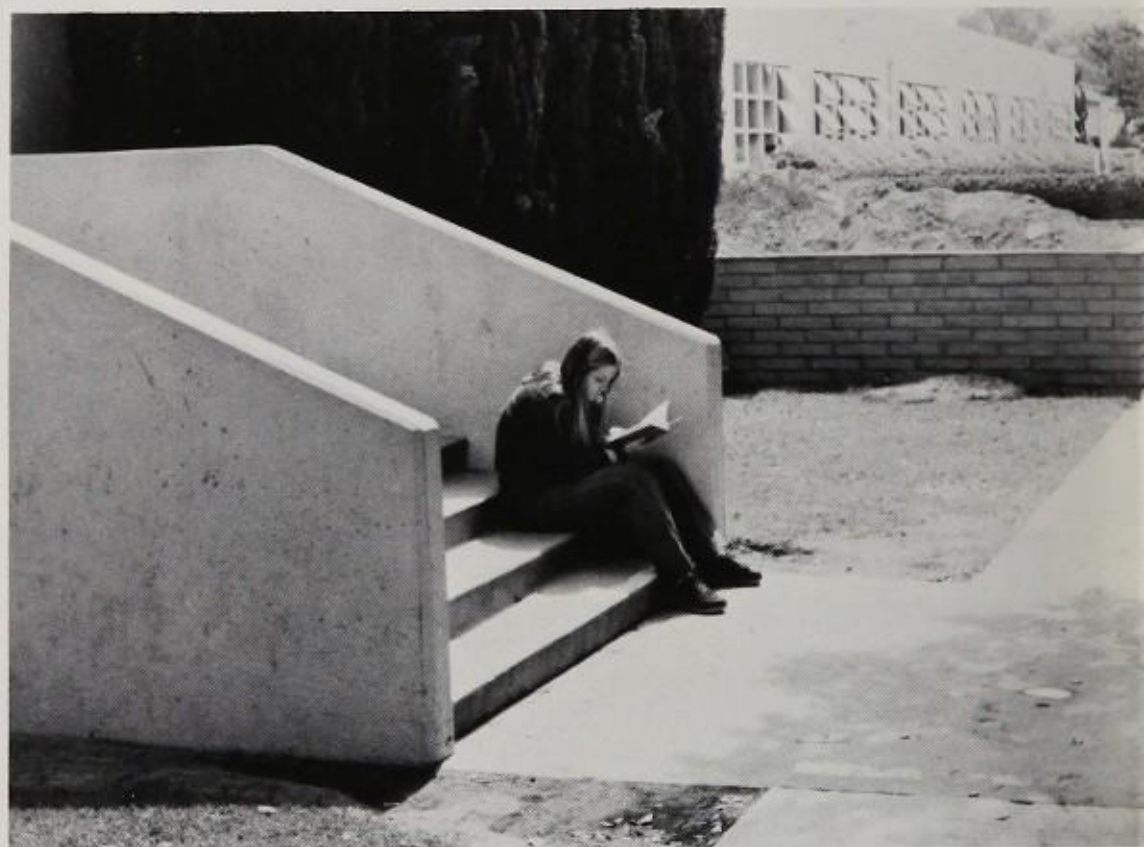

Looking back on the year, we can each pick out individual moments that made it special for us. It might have been a moment of triumph, quiet respect and pride, a time for rest (well needed and happily accepted), or maybe just a time to be with the friends we love. What do you remember?

Remembering people, places, and things that made this year unique, we must also pause silently to remember things that were sad: trying to accept defeat or a mistake that cost us greatly or times when we felt completely alone. We will surely remember these things for a long time, because memories fill our minds and need only to be brought back to life. Perhaps by an old friend who might walk up and say, "Do you remember the time ...?"
